Rehearsals typically take place weekdays from 7pm-9pm, with some Saturdays and an occasional Sunday as the play open date approaches. Rehearsals consists of read-throughs, character development, blocking, Prop incorporation, incorporation of sound effects, lighting, and music, call for lines and off book practices, among other techniques and processes, including vocal direction and choreography.

CONFLICT DATES: You will not need to be at rehearsal on certain nights, only the nights your character is scheduled to rehearse. And later in the process, rehearsals may become more frequent (daily) and all cast must be present for every rehearsal. The last two weeks of rehearsals are mandatory. You will be issued a rehearsal calendar. If there are any dates and/or times that you know you are unavailable, please list all conflicts below. We will work to create a schedule that accommodates your absences (if possible)
